Presented by Game Show Gurus

Hilarious Event Entertainment. Great Traffic Builder. Awesome Booth Fun.

Game Show Gurus presents Star Stage Video Green Screen Machine powered by PopNoggins. PopNoggins is the newest sensation appearing at events everywhere. We entertain guests by putting their heads in a live music video on top of professional dancers' bodies! All of this is accomplished using state-of-the-art "chroma key" (green screen) technology. They don't have to sing or even know the song — just bounce their head! Meanwhile other guests watch the fun on big screen monitors. Many people want to try it next, everyone is laughing hysterically — you have a hit at your event. PopNoggins is suitable for all audiences. We produce an instant music video to take home and the laughter on the spot.

LEFT: The Basic process: Participants put on a green "cape" to hide their bodies. We put a computer generated body under them that dances. Participants can move their head, lipsync, or do what they want. Our computer blends the faces, the bodies, a background music video, a pop song, and any overlay message. Results are shown on local monitors and a DVD handed to participants.

Branding: Graphics like the one below can actually be placed over the final video so it is seen every time it is shown. Your message is encoded and it stays with the video even when loaded to social media keeping the branding viral.
