Versus Game Show

Win It In Two Minutes !!

Long before the popular NBC TV Minute to Win It Show, we created the fastest moving, highest energy, and most unique school assembly on the block that challenges students with fun, educational, yet easy challenges. This is by far our most popular school game show.

Versus is an exciting and high energy game show that involves all or most of the students in the audience. It's Left Vs. Right, Red vs. Blue, Team 1 vs. Team 2.

Challenges can vary (and be expanded) but usually include: Trivia Face Off, Connect 4, Hula Hoops, Word Scramble, and others. We usually alternate between challenges and grade levels. The best part is that each challenge involves 12-20 students at a time and lasts no more than TWO Minutes. The countdown clock is shown on a large video screen for indoor events or a LED Scoreboard for outdoor events. Twelve student challenges and a teacher round are played in a sixty minute time frame.

This game is scripted for each school and can vary by grade level groups. It's even awesome for family nights. Add a memorable soundtrack of kids' favorites and you have what Michael, a second grader called "The Best Assembly Ever".

Versus II and III now available for schools who have already booked Versus I. See www.versusgameshow.com for more info.

See our web site for downloads of PDFs containing more complete "one sheets" detailing each game. You can contribute to the material of any game. Kid Friendly interactive DJ's are also available—complete with games.

Interactive Trivia Blitz Game Show

Trivia Blitz is our most basic and longest running trivia game show. Up to twelve participants at four contestant podiums answer high speed questions. Material is about academics at their grade level (for assemblies) or pop culture and academics (for other events) from our energetic emcee is included. Can be run inside or outside. Teachers and parents get to participate as well. Modifications can be made with Family Nights to lighten it up a bit with some physical challenges. Games cycle every five minutes with 72 students and 8 teachers actually getting to "press the button" in a sixty-minute program. For modifications, see new Smarty Pants game show or Big Picture Blast.

All Play the Wireless Game Show !!!

All Play is a wireless audience response type game that simulates the audience interaction of tv show 1 Vs. 100.

School events generally use 28 buzzers divided into four teams. Questions are projected on a screen. The active 28 respond by using their remote control. After each question the computer shows individual and team results. The audience always gets excited about this game. All Play is very unique to Game Show Gurus.

All Play has been recently upgraded with new buzzers and now can support up to 250 buzzers! Game design for this format can vary.

Game Shows Gone Wild

SMARTY PANTS

Smarty Pants is the latest addition to the Game Show Gurus family. It is a cross between Trivia Blitz, Big Picture Blast, and All Play in which teams Using the same contestant podiums that we use during Trivia Blitz, four teams of three or four are invited on stage. In this game, the four buttons on the podiums (labeled A-B-C-D) mean something. A question is shown on the screen with multiple choices. Each team must decide what the correct answer is by pressing the correct lettered button on their podium. After each team buzzes in, we can show the correct answer on the screen and reveal how each team did. If the team gets it correct, they get the points, if they get it wrong, they lose points.

This game is cool because it requires teamwork on the part of the players, doesn't make the players talk (although we might banter with them asking why they chose an answer), and that all teams get a chance to play. The audience can play along because they can try to shout answers out, but it is ultimately up to the contestants.

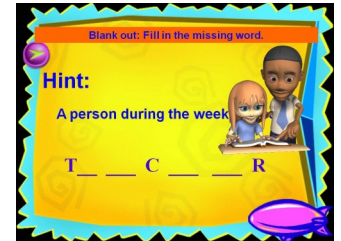

This game show normally uses four podiums, but additional podiums are possible. Material is multiple choice and can be supplied by the school or use our standard questions. Some material can have audio or visual bytes, just like in Big Picture Blast.

Big Picture Blast

From the growing list of proprietary game shows that we have designed, comes Big Picture Blast. It is always said that students learn better when they can visualize a concept, so why not make a game show based on this?

In Big Picture Blast, our video screen has PowerPoint based questions with educational content. Questions include: picture recognition, math problems, word scrambles, multiple choice questions, sound bites, etc.

Runs similar to Interactive Trivia Blitz with a video screen. This really helps younger kids. The set has been redesigned since 2012.

Mini Trivia Blitz Game Show

Designed for kids parties (5-11 years old), Scout events, and small assemblies.

Following a similar format as our larger Interactive Trivia Blitz, our miniature trivia game show is run by only one of our staff Gurus instead of the two that all of our other game shows require. It also has a smaller footprint. See also new Mini Versus for small groups.

Extreme Bingo

Bingo modified for the multimedia generation. Great for family nights.

Ballistic Bingo Classic

Traditional bingo with a video projected game board, enhanced with music, backdrops, and moving lights.

Video Bingo—Custom game cards are printed with our special software. We play music videos, cartoons, Schoolhouse Rock, movie trailers, or any visual. When participants see a video that it is also on their board, they mark it. Five in a row wins. Can be use kid's videos or any type of video or picture as well.

Visual Trivia Bingo—Trivia questions meets Bingo. We project visual questions on our screen. Find the answer on your Bingo board.

Survey Says ?

Always a popular game show format, Survey Says? is formatted after the Family Feud game show. The top six to eight answers to our surveys are on the board. Two teams of five try to guess the answers. Games cycle after about ten minutes. Complete with contestant pens, face off podium, game board, host, emcee, lights, and more.

Trivia Ladder

Using a set of colored "contestant buttons" linked to one of several software programs, which we can place either on stage or in the audience.

Trivia Ladder uses up to ten teams (soon to be 20). A multiple choice question is shown on the screen. Player "buzzes" in. If they get answer correct, they move up on the prize board. If they get it wrong, they move down. More details online.

For

Large Scale Fund Raisers

Instead of an auction, for larger events, consider our "Game Show Give Away" which is designed loosely in the style of The Price is Right. During a fundraiser, guests (usually adults), get a chance to come up on stage to win by playing games of chance. Get sponsors. Sell tickets and chances to win big prizes. See www.giganticgameshowgiveaway.com for more details. This show was originally designed for casinos and event marketing but also great for you.
